HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS
AND
Hoofland's German Tonic.
The Great Remedies for all Diseases of the LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS
Is composed of the pure juices (or, as they are medicinally termed, Extracts,) of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from alcoholic admixture of any kind.
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,
Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, &c., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.
Those preferring a Medicine free from Alchoholic admixture, will use
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.
Those who have no objection to the combination of the bitters, as stated, will use
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.
They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the tonic being the most palatable.
The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc, is very apt to have its functions deranged. The Liver, sympathizing as closely as it does with the stomach, then becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:
Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a lying posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.
The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, purchasing only that which he is assured from his investigation and inquiries possesses true merit, is skillfully compounded, is free from injurious ingredients, and has established for itself a reputation for the cure of these diseases. In this connection we would submit those well known remedies—
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS
AND
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,
Prepared by DR. C. M. JACKSON,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefited suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.
These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Disease of the kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.
DEBILITY,
Resulting from any Cause whatever; PROSTRATION OF THE SYSTEM, induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposure, Fevers, &c.
There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tonic and vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eyes, a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.
PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE,
And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this BITTERS, or the TONIC, an elixir that will instill new life into their veins, restore in a measure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.
NOTICE.
It is a well established fact that fully one half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health; one or, to use their own expression, never feel well. They are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.
To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the TONIC, is especially recommended.
WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN,
Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, without fail.
Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but a few. Those, it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.
TESTIMONIALS.
HON. GEORGE W. WOODWARD,
Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pa., writes:
Philadelphia, March 18, 1767.
"I find 'Hoofland's German Bitters' is a good tonic, useful in diseases and of great benefit in want of nervous action.
Yours, truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD."
HON. JAMES THOMPSON,
Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
Philadelphia, April 28, 1866.
"I consider 'Hoofland's German Bitters' a valuable medicine in case of attacks of indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect,
JAMES THOMPSON."
FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,
Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.
Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir: I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that, for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.
Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates St.
FROM REV. E. D. FENDALL.
Assistant Editor Christian Chronicle, Philadelphia.
I have derived decided benefit from the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and feel it my privilege to recommend them as a most valuable tonic, to all who are suffering from general debility or from diseases arising from derangement of the liver.
Yours truly,
E. D. FENDALL.

HOME.

Home's not merely four square walls,
Though hung with pictures nicely gilded;
Home is where affection calls,
Filled with shrines the heart hath builded.
Home! go watch the faithful dove,
Sailing 'neath the heavens above us;
Home is where there's one to love,
Home is where there's one to love us.

Home's not merely roof and room;
Home needs something to endear it;
Home is where the heart can bloom—
Where there's some kind heart to cheer it!
What is home with none to meet?
None to welcome, none to greet us?
Home is sweet, and only sweet,
When there's one we love to meet us.

[For the Globe.]

Letter from Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5, 1869.

DEAR GLOBE:—I've just been wondering if you could recover from the unexpected surprise a letter from me would give you. Imagining your consternation I've made up my mind to enjoy it. Well now for a nice cozy chat. As all gossips commence, what do you think of the weather? Has our climate been metamorphosed; are we to have wet and dry seasons and the earthquake accompaniments of our South American neighbors? How our ice dealers moan over Jack Frost's eccentric behaviour. What shall we do this summer? Nary mint julip, no sherry and ice, no little urchin can be pacified by a parental gift of three cents worth of ice cream. And our poor skating park proprietors, everything ready, only the ice talent engaged, cricket matches announced at the first opportunity. One of our rinks have lain a floor of Maine ice and bid defiance to the clerk of the weather—and as we appreciate enterprise we we all go and pay for the privilege men have ceased to treat each other coolly, and the lady who froze a gentleman with a look is anxiously sought for by the proprietor of "Eastwicks Park." Icing is no longer put upon wedding cake; in fact everything is on the melt, although I see by the quotations that butter and lard's firm—in fact like the thermometers, they have an upward tendency. Well, well, we will drop the subject for I cannot trent it coolly.

Although late in the day permit me to say how jolly we all felt here, who love old Huntingdon, over the choice of your talented townsman John Scott as U. S. Senator, and haven't we a right to feel so. Democrat as I am, no one could more heartily rejoice over a choice that reflects so much credit on the grand old Commonwealth we all so dearly love. Purity, talent, and unostentation in his person have been fittingly rewarded, and so should it ever be. Would that merit and not party might ever control the selection of our public men. I wonder if your Senator would be gratified by the knowledge that "Huntingdon whiskey" is now the popular beverage in one at least of our saloons. I shant do more than wonder, for fear that such an idea might be looked upon as wonderfully absurd.

Have you the velocipede fever? We are getting it bad. Look out for Westonish feats on wheels. I confidently expect to make one of a party ere many months roll on to start from Philadelphia by turnpike for a trip to Huntingdon. Already we have schools where we are taught just how to do it, and do it well. Heaven help poor Philadelphia if some of your youths prove as fast on wheels as they do on foot—coal oil Johnny will be voted a very flat at fastness.

A very funny thing critically considered transpired here during the week. Grover leased the "Theatre Comique" for theatrical performances, and on Monday last was to make his opening with the "Way of the wicked." Well, Tuesday and Wednesdays papers contained criticisms of his rendition of the many characters he personates, and on the merit of the play—the Press dealing harshly, the Age leniently, the Herald praising; but wonderful to relate the play was not brought out, and will not be. We are all in a broad grin, and again have an opportunity to judge of the reliability of those who cater for our wants on paper.

As yet business is dull—every one preparing for the spring trade—it may be there will be just a little more preparation than trade.

Our Theatres are doing a good paying business, Mrs. Drew giving us "12th Night," in a most charming dress. The Walnut running "After Dark." And Oh! Globe! we've the dearest, sweetest little darling—Susie Galton, singing comic operas for us on Chestnut. She's the rage, and all are raging about her—fashion having for her her sweetest smiles and prettiest compliments.—I do confess it, if I have a vulnerable point in this worldly casing of mine it must be my passionate fondness for vocal music. I can't say I "hanker" after our street ballad-ists nor their musical accompanyments—how I pity the poor maimed fellows in blue who grind out a dolorous living on our street corners—"Champaign Charley," following "Nora O'Neil," and she, modest little girl, giving way to the "Dark girl dressed in Blue," who "Marches through Georgia," "Wearing of the Green," to "Lanigan's Ball."

By the way, did you notice the proceedings of our "Society for the prevention of cruelty to animals." The following stringent laws for the amelioration of the suffering were prepared by me and tabled by the "Blockheads:"

Be it Resolved, That whereas, all men were created free and equal, and we are fast drifting to that bourne from whence no traveler has signified his willingness to return, and as great minds are immovable as the granite hills of New Jersey; we do hereby condemn and classify as barbarous the use of rattans in the public schools, and we do call upon Congress to levy a heavy tax upon those implements of torture—fine tooth combs, and do ask for the summary arrest and trial of all oyster dealers, that the inhuman habit of roasting these innocent shell fish be done away with, except upon charcoal fires, that they may be rendered insensible by the fumes thereof; that chloroform be administered in every case ere the fatal knife deprive the innocent sheepses and calves of life; that a price be put upon all stinging flies, said sums to be paid from monies now in the hands of the Secretaries of foreign missions; that insane men shall be eligible to election as Congressmen, but as a safe guard during vacation be put upon the committee of finance; that all men making stinging remarks be fined and imprisoned; that the man who cut an acquaintance, he who crushed opposition by intellectual force, she who fired a man's heart by a look, he who carries murder in his eye, and the woman who looks daggers, be immediately placed in solitary confinement. Happy am I in saying George Francis Train heartily approves them and will commence a series of lectures to tutor the public mind to their adoption. Soon promising to write you again, believe me your well wisher, N. S.

☞ Question for moralists—shall we resort to the ballet.

A Singular Adventure.

Once upon a time a traveler stepped into a stage coach. He was young, of good standing in life. He found six passengers around him, all gray-headed and extremely aged, at least eighty Winters. Our young traveler, struck with the singularly mild and happy aspect which distinguished all his fellow-passengers, determined to ascertain the secret of a long life and art of making old age comfortable.

He addressed the one apparently the oldest, who told him he had always led a regular and abstemious life, eating vegetables and drinking water. The young man was rather daunted at this, inasmuch as he liked the good things of this life. He addressed the second, who astonished him by saying he had always eaten roast beef and gone to bed regularly fuddled for the last seventy years, adding that all depended upon regularity. The third had prolonged his days by never seeking or accepting office; the fourth by resolutely abstaining from all political and religious controversies; and the fifth by going to bed at sunset and rising at dawn. The sixth was apparently much younger than the other five—his hair was less gray and there was more of it—a placid smile, denoting a perfectly easy conscience, mantled his face, and his voice was jocund and strong.

They were all surprised to learn that he was ten years the oldest man in the coach.

"How is it that you have preserved the freshness of life?" exclaimed the young traveler. He answered by saying:

"I have drank water and wine; I have eaten meat and vegetables; I have dabbled in politics and written religious pamphlets; I have sometimes gone to bed at midnight; and got up at sunrise and at noon;" he then, fixing his eyes upon the young man, concluded with this remark—"but I always pay promptly for my newspapers!"

Then the other old man also chimed in with—"Of course we always pay promptly and in advance, for our newspapers. No man deserves long life who does not do this."

Then the young man resolved that he also would render himself deserving of long life—and immodiately subscribed for five newspapers, paying for them all in advance.

He is living yet!

A HERCULES—James Gibson, of East Bradford township, Chester Co., went into the West Chester Record office the other day and wrote his name against a wall while a fifty-six pound weight was hanging on his little finger. Gibson is a carpenter, and is past his three-score years. He made the following statement to the editor of the Record:—In 1825 he would lift the forge hammer at Hibernia, with great ease, and could shoulder three bushels of wheat standing, with both feet in the half bushel. In 1828 could take a barrel of cider from the wagon, carry it several steps and place it on the porch. In 1852 could take a 56lb weight on each little finger and strike them together above his head, and would strap two 56lb. weights together and take them in his teeth and carry them; could stand a barrel of flour on its end, and place his finger ends under the end hoops and lift it arm's length. In 1828 lifted seven 56's with one hand tied together, and lifted a pair of railroad car wheels and axle at Parkesburg shops. When building a barn some men were trying to lift a large oak sill; he placed two men on, one weighing 190, and the other over 200 lbs., and lifted sill and men—one of the men is still living yet, and can be produced. In 1867 he lifted 925 lbs., on the fair ground. As the witnesses have nearly all passed away, the strongest evidence that can be given, he will go out against the young men on a big day's work—the harvest field not excepted. He never used tobacco nor indulged in intoxicating drinks, and is strong in the belief that many young men not only lay a foundation for a weak constitution, but a premature grave by the excessive use of tobacco, and other intemperate habits.

THE "GREENEST" YET.—The Meadville correspondent of the Titusville Herald is responsible for the truth of the following:

A ludicrous case of verdancy occurred at the McHenry House a few weeks ago, as follows: A couple from Oakland came to town, got married in the evening, proceeded to the hotel and at a late hour were found in the sitting room by one of the colored waiters. The newly made Benedict asked the gentleman of color "how soon their bed would be brought in." Sambo politely responded by informing that if he wished a room he must register his name, when the clerk would assign him one. He accordingly repaired to the office and inscribed his name and the maiden name of his wife below it. Insisting upon having a room together, the clerk inquired if he and the lady were married, when he replied in the affirmative, and pulled from his pocket the marriage certificate! The question of legality being settled, the happy pair were conducted to an apartment. An hour or two after a strong smell of gas sent the night watchman hunting for the leak. It was traced to the room of the newly married pair. Demanding admission and asking the cause of the escaping gas, the rural swain replied, pointing to the gas burner, "that he blew it out and then the darned thing smelt so bad that he put his stocking over it." Sure enough, there was the stocking, drawn over the burner and tied down with a sheestring.

A Good Yarn.

In the village of ——— lived a man who had once been a Judge of the county, and well known all over it by the name of Judge R———. He kept a store and a saw-mill, and was always sure to have the best of the bargain on his side, by which he had gained an ample fortune; and some did not hesitate to call him the biggest rascal in the world. He was very conceited withal, and used to brag of his business capacity whenever any one was near to listen. One rainy day, as quite a number were seated round the stove, he began as usual to tell of his great bargains, and at last wound up with the expression—

"Nobody has ever cheated me, nor they can't neither."

"Judge," said an old man of the company, "I've cheated you more than you ever did me."

"How so?" said the judge.

"If you promise you won't go to law about it, nor do anything, I'll tell you, or else I won't; you are too much of a law character for me."

"Let's hear," cried half a dozen voices at once.

"I'll promise," said the judge, "and treat in the bargain if you have."

"Well, do you remember the wagon you robbed me of?"

"I never robbed you of a wagon; I only got the best of the bargain," said the judge.

"Well, I made up my mind to have it back, and—"

"You never did," interrupted the cute judge.

"Yes, I did and interest too."

"How so?" thundered the now enraged judge.

"Well, you see, Judge, I sold you one day a very nice pine log, and bargained with you for a lot more. Well, that log I stole off your pile down at the mill, the night before, and the next day I sold it to you. The next night I drew it back home, and sold it to you the next day; and so I kept on till you had bought your own log of me twenty seven times."

"That's a lie!" exclaimed the infuriated Judge, running to his book and examining his log account; "you never sold me twenty-seven logs of the same measurement."

"I know it," said the vender in logs; "by drawing it back and forth the end wore off, and as it wore I kept cutting the end off, until it was only ten feet long—just fourteen feet shorter than it was the first time I brought it—and when it got so short I drew it home and worked it up into shingles, and the next week you bought the shingles and I concluded I had got the worth of my wagon back, and stowed away in my pocket book."

The exclamation of the judge was drowned in the shouts of the by-standers, and the log drawer found the door without the promised treat.

FISHING FOR MICE.—Several years since writes a Yankee correspondent, my cousin, Miss ———, used to keep a district school. Among those who attended it was a little boy of perhaps four years of age, but too young to speak plainly. One day, while the others were at their studies, he got possession of a pin and a string. He bent the pin into the form of a fish hook, tied the string to it, and put on it a small piece of cheese. He had seen a mouse come up through a hole in a corner of the hearth, and set himself to bob for it as it had been a fish. He was observed and asked by my cousin what he was doing.

"Fishing for a mouse," was the reply.

As this pastime was not allowed in school, the teacher, by way of punishment, ordered him to continue bobbing for the mouse. So the little fellow sat, grave as a judge, bobbing away until soon the mouse took a strong hold of the cheese, and the boy, giving a sudden pull, sprang into the middle of the room, and swinging the mouse round his head, astonished the whole school with the exclamation, "I thwar, I've got him!"

SLEDGING A PARSON.—I was a passenger on a steamer from Panama to San Francisco when the rush of travel on that line was immense. We were badly crowded, and there were no room for chairs or tables, yet we were bound to have our game of "old sledge." A Baptist minister, smitten with the lust for gold, had deserted his flock, and occupied a sleeping place on the cabin floor. He was a large, corpulent man, and finding him a sound sleeper, four of us squatted around him, and commenced to play on his broad stomach, scoring the points of the game on his black vest. We played several hours, undisturbed except by an occasional snore of uncommon force. I had won considerable, and one of opponents, Jim Boyle by name, becoming excited by him turning up a Jack, brought down his fist upon the lower part of the parson's stomach with great power. The pious old gentleman was awakened thereby, and looked up with surprise; but seeing the state of the case, quietly exclaimed:—"Go on with the game; but if you are going to pound me in that manner, you had better let me turn over."

☞ A Frenchman, who had purchased a country seat, was complaining of the want of birds in his garden. "Set some traps," replied an old officer, "and they'll come. I was once in Africa, and there wasn't supposed to be a woman within two hundred miles. I hung a pair of earrings and a collar upon a tree, and the next morning I found two women under the branches."

The Murder of Dr. Burdell.

The New York World publishes the details of a confession said to have been made by Charles Jefferds to a detective, proving that he (Jefferds) was the actual murderer of Dr. Burdell in 1857. Jefferds was convicted of the murder of Walton and Matthews in 1860, but the sentence of death was never carried into execution. Jefferds was himself killed in Sing Sing a few months since by a fellow-convict, now awaiting trial for murder. The confession was made several years since, and is now for the first time given to the public.

☞The Hon. De Witt Clinton Senter will become Governor of Tennessee by virtue of his office as President of the Senate of that State, on the 25th inst., the day on which Gov. Brownlow's resignation takes effect. Mr. Senter is a young man, being only 35 years of age. He was educated as a lawyer, and is said to be a gentleman of marked ability and has had much experience in public affairs, having been connected with either one or the other branch of the Legislature, most of the time since he became of age. He was a stanch loyalist during the war, and met with much rough treatment at the hands of the Rebels.

☞Mr. Pruyn "came to time" very promptly on Saturday with his assurance that the Democratic party would cheerfully sustain Gen. Grant. We find, however, that his action is not indorsed. "Mr. Pruyn," writes a Democratic editor, "was doubtless too sanguine and complaisant, or at least a little premature, in promising General Grant the support of the Democratic party, when he has not yet delivered his Inaugural Address, nor shown his hand in his appointments." There is the rub! Gen. Grant must understand that DEMOCRACY MEANS POST-OFFICE!!! He may adopt any policy, however wise and statesmanlike; Democracy will not assent until he "shows his hand in his appointments."

☞The Supreme Court of the United States has decided that a contract entered into before the passage of the Legal Tender act, and made specially payable in coin, is valid and can be enforced. Such a decision would excite no special interest, did not the dispatch announcing it state as part of the opinion of the Court, as delivered by the Chief-Justice, that "when the kind of currency is not mentioned, then legal tenders are lawful in such connection." This would seem to be the mere dictum of the Court, as the point does not seem to be involved in present case. But as a dictum it would indicate that in a case in which the kind of currency was not expressly mentioned in the contract, even though the contract were made prior to the passage of the Legal Tender act, the Court would sustain and enforce that act.

Pennsylvania in the Cabinet.

We learn from Washington, from what we consider good authority, that Pennsylvania will be represented in Grant's Cabinet, but who the lucky individual is, we are not prepared to say. That Pennsylvania is entitled to a position in the Cabinet, no one will deny, and we hope the information we have may be true. Quite a number of gentlemen are named for the position and all confident of success. Gov. Curtin is prominent and his claims should not be overlooked, as Colfax undoubtedly owes his nomination to him. Ed. McPherson and Glenni W. Schofield are talked of and urged by their friends, but as Grant keeps his own council, and does not give the friends of any gentleman the least encouragement whatever, we will have to be content until Grant, in his own good time, sees fit to tell us who he has selected to aid him to guide the Ship of State.

Cuban Insurrection Gaining Ground.

Every batch of news from Cuba grows more and more interesting. An American gentleman in Cuba, who is in a position to know the rebellion and its prospects quite thoroughly, states that the insurrection gains ground rapidly. The patriots have organized a Provisional Government, electing its members by a popular vote. The supreme command has been intrusted to Gen. Quesada, Cespedes being the civil head, or Secretary of War. The Provisional Government propose with unanimity, general emancipation, equal political rights for all colors, suffrage to be based on educational or property qualification. The wealthier classes have all emancipated their slaves. No propositions from the Spaniards will now be listened to; nothing short of independence is desired; when that is established the Cubans hope to obtain the protection of the United States, with a view of eventually becoming a member of the American Union. Many are desirous of annexation now, but open discussion of that question might now create dissensions.

The Suffrage Question.

The overwhelming rejection by the House of the Senate amendments to the Constitutional Amendment concerning Suffrage, leaves that whole question uncertain. The difference between the plans of the two Houses is marked. The Representatives merely sought to guarantee suffrage from limitation on account of race, color, or previous condition of slavery, thus:

"The right of any citizen of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or any State, by reason of race, or color, or previous condition of slavery, of any citizen or class of citizens in the United States."

The Senators extended the guarantee to office-holding as well as suffrage, and made it apply against educational, property, nativity, or religious qualifications, as well as against any arising out of the old slavery distinctions:

"No discrimination shall be made in the United States among the citizens of the United States in the exercise of the elective franchise, or in the right to hold office in any State, on account of race, color, nativity, property, education or creed."

LATER.

The Constitutional Amendment has progressed one stage farther. The Senate proposition was taken up in the House about the middle of Saturday afternoon. Everybody was tired of talk, there was less than an hour's debate. Gov. Boutwell then brought in his motion making it allowable within ten days of the adjournment to suspend all rules, so as to prevent filibustering, and it was of course carried by the Republican strength. Three yea and nay votes were had, and the amendment was then carried by a party vote of 140 to 33, in the following terms:

"The right of citizens of the United States to vote and hold office shall not be denied or abridged by any State on account of race or color, nativity, creed, or previous condition of servitude."

This is much like Senator Wilson's original proposition, except that the word "education" is omitted from the last clause, so as to leave the States free to establish an educational qualification if they choose. The words "nativity, property and creed," were inserted on Mr. Bingham's motion by 93 to 70, and this marks the difference between the House and Senate. The latter body seems likely to accept the amendment, as it now stands, though Senators west of the Rocky Mountains will make a strong effort to strike out the word "nativity." The most important action of the House was that on striking out the words "and hold office." The change was moved by Gen. Logan, who was defeated by yeas 71, nays 97. An analysis of this vote shows that the vote to strike out was made up of thirty-two Democrats and thirty-nine Republicans, and the vote against striking out entirely of Republicans. The Republicans voting to strike out were—Ashley, of Nevada; Benton, Bingham, Buckland, Churchill, Coburn, Dockery, Eckley, Ferry, Fields, Garfield, Halsey, Higby, Hubbard, of West Virginia; Hunter, Judd, Ketcham, Lawrence, of Penn'a.; Logan, Marvin, Mercur, Miller, Moore, Moorhead, Morrill, Myers, O'Neill, Pile, Raum, Robertson, Schenck, Scofield, Selye, Smith, Spalding, Starkweather, Stevens, Williams, of Indiana, and Woodbridge.

National and State Legislatures.

CONGRESS.

Tuesday.—In the Senate a resolution was adopted for the appointment of a committee of three to make arrangements for the inauguration of the President elect. The joint resolution granting a pension to Mrs. Lincoln was taken up and considered, but not disposed of.

Wednesday.—In the Senate the bill for the purchase of a site for an Executive Mansion was reported on adversely from committee, as was also a bill striking out the word "white" wherever it occurs in the naturalization laws. The credentials of H. V. Miller, as Senator elect from Georgia, were reported, with a resolution that he be not allowed to take his seat. A report was made on the President's Christmas amnesty proclamation. A resolution was at the same time presented, that, in the opinion of the committee, he was not authorized by the Constitution and laws to issue it. The Senate then took up the constitutional amendment, and after an animated debate adopted the report of the Judiciary Committee.

In the House the Committee on Elections made a report in the Louisiana contested election case, with a resolution declaring that neither Simon Jones, J. W. Menard, nor C. S. Hunt was entitled to a seat.

Thursday.—In the Senate the Post Office and Post Road Committee reported with amendments, the bill to encourage the building of steamships in the United States and to establish an American ocean steamship line.—The Indian appropriation bill was then taken up and considered until 7 P. M.

Friday.—In the Senate a bill was introduced continuing the Educational and Collection Departments of the Freedmen's Bureau. The Indian appropriation bill was taken up and passed, after which the Senate took up the bill to repeal the tenure of civil office act, but without considering it.

In the House a resolution was adopted directing the Secretary of State to take immediate measures to ascertain the cause of the arrest and incarceration in Cuba of an American citizen. On motion it was ordered that the expense of removing the remains of the late Hon. Thaddeus Stevens from Washington to Lancaster be paid out of the House contingent fund.

LEGISLATURE.

Monday.—The House considered a number of private bills.

Tuesday.—Both Houses considered private bills.

Wednesday.—In the Senate a resolution was passed authorizing the committee on General Judiciary to inquire and report as to the propriety of abolishing the civil code commission or of reducing its expenses.

In the House a joint resolution was passed for the discharge of the twenty seven extra employees of the House.

Thursday.—The Senate considered the existing law for the assessment of State taxes.

The House considered the appropriation bill.

Friday.—In the Senate a number of private bills were read.

The House passed the appropriation bill,

The amount of petroleum remaining unsold in the United States on the 1st of January last, is stated at 520,588 barrels; afloat and in Europe, 439,668 barrels; total 960,256, showing a decrease of 312 925 barrels as compared with the first of January, 1868.

In the last report from the United States Department of Agriculture, arguments are represented to prevent the present wholesale destruction of our forests. In conclusion it says:—"There will be actual famine for wood in this country within the next thirty years."

The execution of Whalen, the murderer of Hon. D'Arcy McGee, seems to have passed very quietly. His fenian friends were wrought up to a high pitch of excitement and at one time seemed bent on making serious trouble. The telegraph describes the scenes. After the drop fell, the victim lived for four minutes—240 seconds—and then drew his last gasp.

The fifty per cent clause of the bankrupt law having gone into effect on the second day of January, an effort has been made to again extend the time of its operation. The Committee on the Revision of Laws have considered the matter and reported adversely, so we may safely conclude that the law, as it now stands, will not be changed, at least for the present.

The committe having in charge the erection of a monument to the memory of the late Major General John F. Reynolds, at Gettysburg, not being able to raise a sufficient amount to erect such a monument as would be worthy their old commander, have made a call upon those who served under the lamented General to help obtain $2,000, the amount needed.

The Executive Council of the Philadelphia Board of Trade estimate the product in money, of the coal, iron and oil of this State, for the last year, at $195,000,000. This is a greater sum than is produced by all the gold bearing States and Territories, and yet it is the yield of only the mineral product of the State, leaving the vast agricultural and other sources of her wealth out of view.

Almost fabulous stories are told in regard to the Ramie, a plant which has recently been introduced in some parts of the South. It is described as a member of the thistle family; is propagated easily by cuttings; requires comparatively little care, is perennial, yields three or four crops a year, at the rate of 3,000 pounds an acre, and is worth £25 sterling per ton. The threads are longer and more silky than cotton, and mixed with cotton or woolen produces a beautiful fabric, and alone resembles the silks of Lyons.

The bodies of those executed for complicity in the assassination of Mr. Lincoln have now been removed from the Arsenal grounds, Washington, with the exception of Payne. The bodies of Booth, Harrold and Atzerodt were removed on Monday The first was taken to Baltimore for interment beside the body of his father.—The latter two were buried in Washington by their relatives in the afternoon.

In the Chester county prison last year about seven thousand yards each of check and carpeting, and a considerable quantity of other articles were manufactured by the inmates. The goods sold by the prison authorities amounted to $5,261, and the sum drawn from the treasury was $4,700. The labor of the prison thus paid more than half the expenses, and they were protected from the evil effects of idleness and promiscuous association.

Mr. Thomas Dutton, of Delaware county, Penn., celebrated his hundredth birthday on February 2. He is probably the only person living who heard the firing of the cannon in Philadelphia on Independence Day, 1776, at which time he was seven years of ago. He voted for Washington for President, and has voted at every subsequent Presidential election. In November last he was escorted to the polls at the village green by a body guard of his neighbors, and cast his vote for Grant and Colfax.

The coal trade of Pennsylvania has been one of almost uninterrupted prosperity. In 1830 the aggregate shipment of anthracite coal from the Pennsylvania mines to the seaboard was 104,734 tons. Since then the increase has been gradual, and in 1868 reached the enormous amount of 15,333,720 tons. During the whole thirty-eight years, only five show a decrease over any former one. In 1834, 1838, 1857, 1861 and 1865 there was a slight falling off, but each of these periods were exceptional epochs in trade. The proposition of increase has, as a general thing, been very steady.

I want to rouse each sleepy head,
Who stand upon the brink,
Where yawning gulfs disclose the dead,
Who might, but did not, think.

I want to warn the living ones
Who blindly grope along.
Ye fathers, daughters, mothers, sons,
What perils round you throng!

Look out, my reader, are you free,
Or do you wear the mark?
Most all are blind and cannot see,
Yes, groping in the dark.

Catarrh, a demon in the head,
Consumption is its son;
Kills hosts, yea, countless millions, dead,
Perhaps you may be one.

That hacking, hawking, spitting, shows,
Catarrh affects your head,
Matter and slime in nose,
Runs down your throat instead.

Your lungs and liver soon will show,
Consumption has its birth;
Catarrh, its sire, will feed it too,
'Till you return to earth.

If colds affect your head and throat,
ANNIHILATOR buy;
Now don't forget what I have wrote,
Or think this subject dry.

WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR cures
Catarrh—the demon dire;
It saves the lungs, good health insures,
And Catarrh quickly dies.

I want to gratify my friends,
Who wish to understand
About PAIN PAINT, its use, its ends.
And why its great demand.

I want to show you, plain as day,
Why PAIN PAINT stops all pain;
That you may never have to say,
"I'll not try paint again."

PAIN PAINT will cool but never stain;
Pumps inflammation out;
'Tis harmless on the breast or brain,
A trial stops all doubt.

When inflammation leaves the frame,
All pain will cease at once;
Remove the cause, 'tis all the same;
None doubts unless a dunce.

The pores will ope and drink PAIN PAINT;
Absorbents fill with ease;
Restores the weak, the sick, the faint,
The greatest skeptics please.

Evaporation cools the place
As inflammation flies;
Hot blood at the absorbent's base
Makes PAINT in vapor rise.

'Tis thus PAIN PAINT removes all doubt,
Removes the very cause
By pumping inflammation out;
On this we rest our cause.

THE HOWE Sewing Machines

ARE THE

Oldest Established of any in the World.

Over 50,000 Sold in 1868.

These unequaled machines are adapted to every variety of sewing for family wear, from the lightest muslins to the heaviest cloths, and to the use of Seamstresses, Dress Makers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Collars, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Ladies' Boots and Shoes, Linen Goods, etc. They work equally well upon silk, linen, woolen and cotton goods, with silk, cotton or linen thread. They will seam, quilt, gather, hem, fell, cord, braid, bind, and perform every species of sewing, making a beautiful and perfect stitch, alike on both sides of the article sewed. Over 50,000 of these unrivalled machines were manufactured and sold during the year 1868. This is unprecedented in the history of sewing machines, and is another proof of the great popularity of the Howe Machine.

They have invariably won the highest honors at the great Exhibitions of the world, culminating at the late Exposition Universelle at Paris, where was awarded for THIS HOWE MACHINE—the Imperial Prize; the Cross of the Legion of Honor; a Gold Medal, the highest prize within the gift of the Jury, being the result of its EVIDENT EXCELLENCE.

Our interest not being second to that of purchasers of machines, in their successful operation, we hold ourselves in readiness to render any necessary and practicable assistance, by correspondence or otherwise, for this purpose, and for faithfulness in this respect, reference is made to the tens of thousands now using these machius.

Sewing Machines,

Received the only GOLD MEDAL at the PARIS EXPOSITION, 1867.

They are adapted to all kinds of Family Sewing, and to the use of Seamstresses, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Collars, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols, etc. They work equally well upon silk, linen, woolen and cotton goods, with silk, cotton or linen thread. They will seam, quilt, gather, hem, fell, cord, braid, bind, and perform every species of sewing, making a beautiful and perfect stitch, alike on both sides of the article sewed.

The qualities which recommend them are:

1. Beauty and excellence of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed.
2. Strength, firmness and durability of seam, that will not rip nor ravel.
3. Economy of Thread.
4. Attachments and wide range of application to purposes and materials.
5. Compactness and elegance of model and finish.
6. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction.
7. Speed, ease of operation and management, and quietness of movement.

Instructions free to all. Machines kept in repair one year free of charge.

Proceedings of the Town Council.

SPECIAL MEETING, FEBRUARY 17th, 1869.

The Council met. Present—Ass't. Burgesses—Mr. Miller, acting Chairman and Mr. Elliott.

Council—Messrs Artley, Black, Carmon, Cunningham, Fisher, Hefright, Jackson and Port.

The Chairman stated the object of the meeting to be to adopt measures for the purpose of securing the loan requisite for the erection of an engine house, and for the purpose of commencing the work of building, and to take action in the case of several nuisances about which complaint had been made.

The Chairman laid before the Council a copy of an act of assembly entitled: "An Act to enable the borough of Huntingdon to borrow money and issue bonds and also to increase the rate of taxation in said borough."

Mr. Artley submitted a plan for the Engine House which he had drawn in compliance with the request of the building committee.

On motion of Mr. Black, it was

Resolved, That the plan drawn by Mr. Artley be and the same is hereby approved and adopted, with the amendment that the building shall be constructed with a flat roof to have a metallic covering.

Mr. Black read in place and moved the passage of a bill entitled "A supplement to an act authorizing a loan to the borough of Huntingdon for the purpose of purchasing a lot of ground and erecting an engine-house thereon" passed the 4th day of December, 1868, which was agreed to.

On motion the rules were suspended in relation to said bill and it was read a second and third time and on its final passage the yeas and nays were required and were as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Artley, Black, Carmon, Cunningham, Elliott, Fisher, Hefright, Jackson, Port and Miller, Chairman—10. NAYS—none.

On motion of Mr. Cunningham and Mr. Black it was

Resolved, That the Burgesses be and they are hereby authorized and instructed, by advertisement to be published in three successive issues of each of the newspapers published in the borough, to invite proposals for the construction of an Engine house according to the plan adopted by the Council and to let the construction of said building to the lowest and best bidder, requiring from said bidder sufficient security for the faithful performance of the contract.

On motion it was,

Resolved, That the Street Commissioner shall cause all piles of ashes, dirt, rubbish, or other obstructions upon the streets of the borough to be removed, and shall make out and present to the Council, bills against the owner or occupant of each house or lot opposite which such obstructions may be found.

On motion, the Chairman appointed Messrs. Jackson and Black a committee to examine the condition of the house recently occupied by Nancy Louden on Church Street, about which complaint had been made as a nuisance, and to make report thereof to the next stated meeting.

Adjourned.

Handsome Testimonial.

The friends and neighbors of the Hon. John Scott have had executed and presented to him, one of the finest pieces of penmanship in the shape of a certificate of his election to the United States Senate, that we have ever seen. The certificate is 31x27 inches, and engrossed on fine bristol board. The Coat of Arms of Pennsylvania is surrounded by the words "Certificate of election of United States Senator," which for beauty of style and artistic taste cannot be excelled by any penman anywhere. The body of the certificate is handsomely and appropriately "displayed" and flourished in a masterly manner. The words "Commonwealth of Pennsylvania," is displayed in Old English text letters, perfectly made and beautifully embellished. The name "John Scott," is made in block letters, shaded. Although it is intended as an ornament for Mr. Scott's library, it bears the signatures of Wilmer Withington, Speaker of the Senate and President of the Joint Assembly and of G. Dawson Coleman. Teller on the part of the Senate and Geo. F. Morgan, Teller on the part of the House of Representatives, and is a genuine document. It is surrounded by a quaint, unique border and encased in a neat and handsome walnut frame. With the exception of the "Coat of Arms," the work was all done with an ordinary steel pen. It is certainly the finest specimen of penmanship we have ever examined, and reflects immense credit upon the genius, skill and handcraft of Mr. Wm. H. Serbert, a clerk in the Surveyor General's Office, at Harrisburg.

☞A firm down street charges the customers of Enterprise Headquarters with being guilty of gambling because they accept of handsome presents when it is their good luck to be entitled to them. We don't think its the "Lottery" or "Faro-Bank System" they see that disturbs them—it is the liberality of Enterprise Headquarters that they see and are too close fisted to "go and do likewise." If giving away by chance, free of charge, is illegal, gambling, sinful, the most of the churches, and other benevolent associations, in this and other places, will have a rough account to settle.

☞Collins, Alderson & Co., so celebrated for the purity and variety of their Garden Seeds, have something worthy of the attention of a large class of our readers in our paper to day. The Seeds put up by them are extensively grown on their Seed Farms, near Haddonfield, N. J., and are of the choicest varieties. They have prepared a pamphlet of 70 pages for the benefit of Gardeners, descriptive of the different table esculents and their proper mode of culture. Let country storekeepers and others interested read the advertisement of the firm in to-day's paper.

Grant, Sherman and Geary.

The above named individuals, the triplet children of Mr. Isaac Cornelius, of Union township, this county, will be in town at the Exchange hotel, on Tuesday evening next, the 2d of March, when all persons desirous of seeing them can have an opportunity by giving the parent the pittance of fifty cents. They will remain over night.

Sugar and Molasses.

The rise in the price of these two articles, which enter so largely into the domestic economy of the rich as well as the poor, must operate to greatly curtail the comforts of the latter, who cannot afford to indulge largely in either article at a price above what it now commands. Sugars have already advanced three and four cents per pound, and molasses in proportion, and the price is steadily going upward. This is, no doubt, correctly attributed to the civil war in Cuba, which has caused the cessation of operations on many, perhaps most, of the finest sugar plantations on the island The Boston Traveller remarks on the subject as follows:

The disturbed condition of Cuba has unsettled the price of sugar and molasses in our markets; and although the stocks of both are much larger than they were at the corresponding period of last year, yet prices are bounding upward, something like gold in the dark days of the war. A prominent sugar firm stated this forenoon that they could not give any quotations, owing to the fact that prices had advanced so rapidly. But the trade has become almost stagnant.

Only those who were compelled to buy to meet immediate wants were in the market, and these purchased only small lots. A wholesale grocer stated that he was selling sugar between twelve and a half and twenty cents per pound, but remarked that in the stores prices were even higher. Accounts from Europe show that the markets for Cuba produce are as much excited as our own.—This will stimulate the export of sugar from the Mauritius, Manilla and other eastern ports, so that those who can afford to wait have no cause to fear a famine in sugar. The same cause has affected molasses. Syrup and honey are also higher and tending upward. Those who are familiar with the trade in Cuba say that the disorganization of labor caused by the insurrection will be the means of diminishing the production one half, even if the insurgents were defeated to morrow, and harmony restored. The party which triumphs will be compelled, by the very necessity of its triumph, to be more liberal than its enemy, in order to secure the fruits of victory. Slavery, therefore, it is reasoned, will be abolished, no matter who succeeds, and with abolition of slavery the production of sugar and molasses in Cuba will be much reduced.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

DUDLEY, PA., Feb. 17, 1869.

MESSRS. EDITORS.—I will give the readers of the Globe a small digest of the passing events of this place, commencing with

The Weather—Which for the last week has been very warm taking into consideration the season of the year. We saw numerous robins and blue birds who flew from bush to tree and warbled forth their glorious notes that would do good to the melancholy heart and bring back to mind the recollection that the glorious spring days had returned once more. We also had the pleasure of seeing a sugar camp in full blast, which is an unusual thing up in these mountains this early in the season.

Mining and Business.—The mines up here are not doing as much business nor shipping as much coal as they did during the fall. The Broad Top Colliery and Carbon mines were idle from the first of the present month up to the 15th inst., when they resumed operations—the cause being that the miners struck for an advance of ten cents in the price of mining, which they received.

It is rumored that W. A. Orbison, Esq., of Huntingdon, is going to rent the Barnet Place from R. H. Powell. If this be correct it will add greatly to the amount of coal that is shipped from this region annually—the mine being capable of shipping from one hundred and fifty to two hundred tons daily.

Business has not been so good for the last week on account of the weather—the roads being in a bad condition from the late thaw.

Accidents.—On the 9th inst., a miner by the name of Michael Stone, engaged at Blair's Colliery in this place, had his collar bone broken and was otherwise injured by some coal falling on him.

At Barnetstown on the 13th inst., a young man by the name of Parks attempted to stop a train of empty coal cars that had been set in motion by some boys, and in doing so his hand caught between the apron of the coal shute and the brake and caused an ugly gash in his hand. One of the boys, a son of Dr. Conrad, who unfastened the brakes of the cars, had his leg broken very badly.

Religious.—The Union Church which I referred to in my last letter, is still increasing in membership, and is in a prosperous condition.

There is attatched to the Roman Catholic Church here a charitable society under the name of the R. C. C. A. Society. It has a membership of one hundred who pay a monthly fee of twenty-five cents each. Since its organization here last August it has given to the support of orphans, widows and others needing aid, over one hundred dollars.

In my next letter I will give an account of Broad Top City, or as it should be called, the city of the Slender Spears, and other places, which may be of interest to your readers.

CARBON.

THE MAMMOTH CAVE.

Extract from a Private Letter.

* * * * * We groped about for many hours in this wonderful place. I never saw anything like it. The freaks of nature displayed here are very strange, and strike the beholder with awe. But the air in some parts of the cave is close and stifling, and when we came out I found myself saddled with a terrible fever, which entirely prostrated me. The physician had never seen a case like it before, and no remedy he prescribed seemed to do the least good. My life was despaired of. Mrs. Wilson, with whom I was residing, had in the house a bottle of Plantation Bitters, and she insisted I should try it, for she said she knew it to be a certain cure in all cases of fever, debility, ague, dyspepsia, &c. I had but little faith, but finally consented to try it as a last resort. In less than three hours after the first dose my fever left me; in two days I was sitting up, and before Saturday night I was as well as ever. I tell you all this that you may know how to act in any case of fever, or any similar disease. I firmly believe the Plantation Bitters saved my life. * * * * * *

In my next I will tell you about the Cave in detail. A. J. P.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—Superior to the best imported German Cologne, and sold at half the price. tf

From an Editorial of the "Traveler" Boston, Massachusetts.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

This Bitters is very generally used throughout the United States and Europe, and the Proprietor has received the most complimentary testimonials from thousands who have experienced its beneficial effects. It is an acknowledged preventive for Cholera, and highly recommended for Debility Prostration of the System, Disorders of the Digestive Organs, Liver Complaints, and numerous other diseases. The Bitters is not a liquor preparation, contains no intoxicating ingredients whatever, gives tone to the whole system, and is very carefully prepared by one of the most scientific chemists and pharmaceutists in America, from roots and herbs gathered in Germany.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC

Combines all ingredients of the Bitters pure Santa Cruz Rum, orange, anise, &c. It is used for the same diseases as the Bitters, in cases were some Alcoholic Stimulant is necessary. It is a preparation of rare value, and most agreeable to the palate.

The Hollidaysburg Register was misinformed in regard to the colored woman of this place roasting her child over a hot stove. The child accidentally fell against the stove. The mother of the child says she has been married thirty years and has had "about twenty-two" children in that time, so she ought to know how to raise children

An exchange don't want the capital of the State at Huntingdon, for fear the morals of our citizens would become corrupted. That is rather rough on the citizens of Harrisburg, and perhaps they would be satisfied to see it moved so that they could breathe a purer atmosphere.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

NO NAME,

It is a common thing now-a-days to hear persons complain about their physical disabilities which bring so much discomfort to both mind and body, that they find no gratification in anything around them. One has no satisfying rest at night, another is always peevish and despondent, still another takes no delight in society, and others again find no compensating pleasures in labor, exercise or even life. No name is given in pathology for their ailments, nevertheless the causes are always present. They simply lack vital power, and Prof. Baker says that "the best remedy for this class is MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS," which he has used for several years, and with uniform success," as it tones the Stomach and Liver—the seat of the complaint—and reconstructs the shattered constitution. This vitalizing tonic speedily removes the cause of languor and discontent, imparts a calm force to the nervous system, rouses the dormant organs of the body, and blesses the sufferer with perfect and lasting health. feb9

The Globe.

Sunlight for the Consumptive.

We have been told by some consumptives that one of the best prescriptions we have made has been their removal from a north room to the sunny south chamber. As we write, two cases come to mind, strikingly illustrative of the sun's benign influence. We had been attending, at an orphan asylum, a girl about twelve years old, who had been long ill of severe typhoid fever. She was wholly prostrated in mind and body, and emaciated to the last degree. It was plain that she was falling into that depressed condition of all the powers of life that so often precedes consumption. Day after day we visited her, but all recuperative power seemed lost. Half dead and alive, the little creature neither spoke nor moved, and ate only on compulsion. One day, on our way to visit her, we felt that elastic thrill which the warm rays of the sun impart in the early cool weather of spring. We involuntarily leaped along, and were instantly struck with the fact that "virtue had gone out of us," when we left behind us the sunlight and warmth of the street, and entered that northern chamber, the dormitory of the poor orphan. That inspiriting influence the invalid had never experienced in the slightest degree during the whole of our sickness, as, owing to its peculiar situation, not a ray of direct sunlight had ever entered the chamber. We were shocked, and for the first time considered the depth of her loss, and our own remissness in regard to her. The air of the room had been pure, the ceilings of the infirmary were lofty, the attendants had been faithful and sagacious. Nothing seemed lacking, in fact, to restore health. Yet it did not come. On the contrary, there seemed a constant downward tendency. "A sunbath in the warm rays of this delicious spring day is what this girl needs," we instantly said to the sister superior. This lady gladly consented to the change, and placed the little patient in another room having a southern aspect, and consequently filled with sunlight. The invalid immediately recognized the change, and asked, in her weak way, to have the curtains raised, so as to let in the full blaze of the light Soon she wanted to sit up, and directed that the easy chair, in which she was propped, should be placed so as to allow her whole body below her face to be exposed to the direct rays of the sun. It was the natural tendency of disease, seeking for all life-renovating influences. And we have never met with so marked or rapid improvement as immediately began in the body and mind of the girl. Appetite and strength increased daily, and with them burst forth again all the joyousness of the child's heart.

Another analogous case, which although we do not demonstrate by it the influence of the sun alone, we cannot forbear to name because by such examples we impress perhaps on the minds of our readers the real principles underlying the whole question. A lady aged about thirty, resident in the northern part of New England, consulted us for undoubted tubercular disease of the lungs. Her house was well situated, and on the side towards the south was a small piazza resting on stone steps, which was raised two or three feet above the ground. The winter was approaching and rules were to be given. Having full faith in these divine influences of pure air and sunlight, we directed that she should sit out on this piazza every day during the winter, unless it were too stormy. It was so arranged as to shut out the cool air on three sides, and to admit the full blaze of sunlight in front. Here, according to our directions, she used to sit, wrapped in furs, reading or writing for several hours each day during the following winter, and with most excellent results. She was directed frequently to make deep inspirations, in order to fill the lungs with pure air. She was never chilled, because the sun's rays and her warm clothing prevented it. She never "took cold" there. On the contrary, the balmy influences exerted upon her by her daily sun and air bath were so grateful; her breathing became so much easier after each of them, that, whenever a storm came, and prevented the resort to the piazza, the invalid suffered in consequence thereof. Whether these remarks will prove to our readers that want of sunlight may be reckoned among the causes of consumption may be well be doubted, but we trust that, at least, they will convince some sceptics that sunlight has a potent influence in raising the human body from various weaknesses that sometimes are the precursors of fatal phthisis.—Atlantic Monthly for February.

☞The saw is an instrument of very ancient origin. We find it mentioned in the book of Isaiah at a period contemporaneous with the building of Rome. It is represented on the obelisks of Egypt, and was in use among the Egyptians a thousand years before the days of Isaiah. The Greeks ascribe the invention of the saw to Dædalus, or his pupil Talus; but it is certainly of a more ancient date. Saw-mills were erected in Germany in the fourth century; in the island of Madeira in 1420; at Breslau, in Austria, in 1432; and in 1530 the first one in Norway was built. These were followed by many others all over Europe. The saw-mill, as a mechanism for cutting timber, had not been in use very long in some countries before the settlement of America. The early mode practiced by the American colonists of manufacturing boards and planks was either to saw them by hand or split them from the log, and then finish them by hewing with an axe. The first saw-mill erected in New England was in New Hampshire, near Portsmouth, some time previous to the year 1634. The first mill in Massachusetts was built about the year 1633. This was some years before the saw-mill was introduced into England. An early account of New York, published 1708, speaks of Dutch-built mills for sawing timbers, one of which would do more work in an hour than fifty men in two days. Saw-mills were erected on Manhattan Island as early as 1633. A saw-mill, down to the close of the last century, was quite a simple affair, and a mill that then cost $500 was considered better than the average.

Ayer's

Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Uterous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

McGUIRE'S

SPANISH HAIR DRESSER

FOR PROMOTING THE GROWTH, BEAUTIFYING THE HAIR,

And rendering it dark and glossy. No other compound possesses the peculiar properties which so exactly suit the various conditions of the human hair. The use of this oil as a hair dresser has been universal in every section of the country in the Spanish Main for centuries.—No preparation of art could give that elegant luxuriance and abundance of hair which have so often been the admiration of travelers in Spain. This oil is highly and delicately perfumed, forming an article unrivaled in excellence and upon which the Spanish people for many years have set its seal of enduring approval.

McGUIRE'S

Mexican Wild Flowers Shampoo Lotion

For removing dandruff and scurf from the head, whitening and perfuming the skin. This article is entirely different from anything of the kind ever offered in this country and is warranted free from all poisonous substances. This valuable lotion was used by the Emperor Maximilian and Empress Carlotta of Mexico, and universally used by Mexicans for three hundred years. As a wash for the head—it is cooling, cleansing and refreshing.—When thus used it at once relieves headache.

McGUIRE'S

WILD FLOWERS FOR THE TEETH.

All those who are in favor of white teeth and a pleasant and perfumed breath should at once use McGuire's Wild Flowers for the Teeth. All these preparations are put up in the most elegant and ornamental manner. We make no exception in saying that they are an ornament to a lady's toilet table, and none complete without them. Warranted satisfactory or money refunded. Dealers will bear this in mind.
